TRIBUTE TO A LOCAL VOLCANOLOGIST

The "Vestiges of a Molten Globe," the book by William Lowthian Green, a Kamaaina, which the Gazette company published in 1887, has evoked the following commendation from Prof.
Jaggard:

The Pleasanton,
Honolulu, T. H., July 6, 1909.
Jno. H. Soper, Esq., Hawaiian News
Co., Honolulu, T. H.

Dear Mr. Soper: I have been reading with keen interest the "Vestiges of a Molten Globe" and thank you very heartily for giving me this book. It is a remarkable study and Lowthian Green was in every way a remarkable observer and thinker. I shall prize the book as a valuable addition to my library of volcanology, the more so as it is one of the many testimonials of kindness in the hearts of the people of your sunny land.

Very faithfully yours,
T. A. JAGGAR JR.

good points and eliminate all the weak ones.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Park Theater.

Manager Congdon will present an entirely new picture at the popular Park this evening and call it "The Mohammedan at Home." It is a stirring picture of Turkish life and shows much of the Oriental splendor that a tourist to the old world finds in his travels. Poverty is not lost sight of in the series of views, and the audience will have an opportunity to see both sides of the life with a smattering of the tribes in the desert. The Melnotte sisters will sing "Always Me," and George Milne will sing, with slide accompaniment, "Blue Eyes." The Park has secured the services of J. B.
Hughes, a baritone of more than ordinary ability as a singer, and he will make his first appearance tonight.

Lulani, whose vile language at the baseball grounds yesterday afternoon, it is charged, proved more than the bystanders could endure, was arrested by officer Apana and locked up at the police station on the charge of using vile and profane language in public.
He will appear before Judge Andrade this morning.

ty now experienced in getting booze makes Sunday an easy day for the
